- Deadline for submission of abstracts for Oral presentations: February 15, 2022.
- Notification for oral presentations: April 1, 2022
- Deadline for presenting authors of oral presentations to register: May 20, 2022

- Deadline for submission of abstracts for Poster presentations: May 20, 2022
- Notification for poster presentations: May 25, 2022
- Deadline for presenting authors of poster presentations to register: May 27, 2022

Types:

You can submit an oral or poster presentation. If your oral gets rejected for presentation and you want to be eligible for a poster presentation you can indicate that in the submission form.

How to Submit Abstracts:

General rules:

- Abstracts must be submitted through the abstract web form.
- Abstracts must be submitted in English.
- Abstracts are required for all oral and poster presentations.
- The presenting author must submit the abstract

Step 1: create an author profile.

Fill in your name and e-mail address. A mail with a link to your account will be sent to the given e-mail address.

Please note that creating an author profile does not register you for the conference!

Upon approaching the abstract site you will be asked to create an author profile. After completing this you can submit your abstract.

Step 2: submit your abstract

Click "submit your contribution". Fill in the fields in the form.

Rules:

Maximum number of characters for title: 60

Maximum number of characters for abstract: 1000

One figure can be uploaded per abstract. Maximum size of the picture is 1Mb. File names must contain the abstract title.

Please note that pictures will not show in the conference app.

A field for a caption is provided.

For the purpose of review and programming, abstracts will be divided into categories. Please, indicate on the web form the category you have chosen. If your work falls under more than one category please select the one that describes it the most.

Categories are:

Light Energy Conversion
Photochemical reactions and intermediates
Artificial molecular switches and motors
Single molecule photochemistry
Imaging and sensing
Photomedicine
Photobiology
Emerging techniques and applications
Computational photochemistry
Applications of photochemistry

Step 3: submit!

Click the submit button. If all fields are filled in correctly you will be forwarded to a confirmation page. A copy of that confirmation will be sent to your e-mail address. From this page you can return to your author profile page, where you can see an overview of your submitted abstracts.

After submitting:

By submitting an abstract, all authors give permission to publish the abstract in the digital book of abstracts and app (and by doing so, certify that the abstract is original work)

Presenting authors of abstracts must be registered participants. You can submit an abstract on your author account.

After finishing uploading you can preview and correct your abstract (until the submission deadline).

Review process:

All proposals will be reviewed twice. Communication regarding the outcome of the review process will solely be sent to the submitting author. The submitting (main) author is responsible for communication to all co-authors of a proposal.
